

Music List With Tempos

Created by Adam Randall, April 2017

- This is provided free for your use in musical training or teaching!
- Tempos are approximate (average), for any songs with a fluctuating tempo. (For songs with a great fluctuation in tempo, a range of tempos is provided.) For songs with a steady tempo, the exact tempo is listed.
- There are four lists of songs here, one for each of the four main feels of music (16th note feel, 6/8 time feel, 8th triplet feel, swung 16th feel).
 - For more info on the different 'feels' of music, see www.PlayDrumsNow.com/tempo-list.
 - The four lists are provided in order of tempo (least to greatest), then in the second half, by alphabetical song name (in red).
- Tempos on left are in 'BPM' or 'beats per minute', and specify a note type for the listed tempo. For example, [♪ = 134] means that eighth notes have a tempo of 134 BPM.
- ROCK MUSIC PLUS- This list is of course very biased, since I was the only member of the song-choice committee... but I have included many genres of 'rock' music - which to me includes alternative-rock, electronic-rock, metal-rock, indie-rock, and of course any more mainstream 'rock' music, so the variety is reasonably wide.
- GIVE EM A CHANCE - This list is made of songs I consider worth playing drums to - either enjoyable or valuable, or both. There's at least something you can learn from each of these songs when playing with them.
- DRUMMERS- Play with any of these songs on a drumset OR ON A PRACTICE PAD. Both are valuable ways to practice.
- To find raw 'grid' tempo (fastest rhythmic notes), multiply the '16th note feel' tempos by 4, the '6/8 time feel' 8th note tempos by 2, the '8th triplet feel' tempos by 3, and the 'swung 16th feel' 8th note tempos by 3.
- Every song has a different vibe and a different sonic recipe for making a groove work. You might find challenge with one or two songs at a certain tempo, even if you can easily play others at the same tempo, just because of the way they sound. You'll be surprised at what you learn from this list!
- PLEASE ADD TO THIS LIST!! Let's create a universal list of tempos in each feel, for all musicians and music teachers to use as a valuable resource. Leave any song suggestions (with tempos ideally) as comments on the Play Drums Now facebook page.
